

Thank you for your interest in submitting wine to 1WineDude.com!

In order to minimize the possibility and perception of any conflicts of interest, Joe cannot guarantee coverage or review on www.1WineDude.com of any wine submitted for possible review. However, every reasonable effort will be made to objectively taste samples that are sent, with preference being given to those samples for which the following form (or equivalent information) has been presented.

Wines are typically tasted over the course of two or more days and often with and without food (to help closely match the ways that our readers drink and experience their wine).

If reviewed, the samples may appear as standalone reviews, in feature articles and/or as part of "mini reviews" (included in Joe's twitter review feed and on weekly "round-up" posts on 1WineDude.com).

Only one bottle of wine is required (bottles found to have faults may require that additional samples be sent, however). Shipping address: 605 Huntington Dr., Downingtown, PA 19335 (alternative DE available upon request). International shipments cannot be accepted.
